

WORK ON CABINET IS SECRET

BY JACK ROYLE
(STAFF CORRESPONDENT J. N. SERVICE)
MADISON, Dec. 9.—Regular union hours are not long enough for the amateur "cabinet makers" who are endeavoring to assist President-elect Harding to choose his official family, he indicated today.

"It's fine," he said, in alluding to the thousands of suggestions he had received. "I do not mind it a bit." He reiterated forcefully that up to the present moment he had not offered anyone a cabinet post and added that he did not intend to do so immediately.

While Senator Harding and his close advisers were silent as to the identity of the men under consideration for the various portfolios, it was stated authoritatively today that the holding of a seat in the senate would not be considered a bar to a cabinet post in spite of the desire of the senate leaders to retain expert services in the upper house.

It was also indicated that the make-up of the Harding cabinet probably would be thoroughly representative.

graphically, adequate recognition being given the main general sections of the country.

The time of announcement of the cabinet appointments still is uncertain, Senator Harding stated frankly that he did not know himself.

Whether the president-elect will lay aside the senatorial toga immediately, probably will be decided today. Senator Harding announced that he had arranged for a telephone conference with Senator-elect Frank B. Willis, on whose shoulders the senatorial mantle is destined to fall.

After sounding out the wishes and convenience of the man who is to succeed him, Senator Harding said he would probably dispose finally of the Gov. Cox offer to appoint Willis immediately after the president-elect resigns his senatorial seat.

While Senator Harding was careful to give no indication of his probable course men closely associated with him expressed their belief that he would accept the offer. This course, they pointed out, would relieve him of a possible necessity of going to Washington to vote on any important pending measure in which both he and Senator Underwood, with whom he is paired, would wish to be recorded.
